Dear Dr. Robinson—

I know your heart will be saddened too by the news on the enclosed clipping. Her illness was brief and was caused by high blood pressure & a weakened heart. But we know she is happier far with her dear ones beyond - she was so lonely here without Uncle Cal, and we would be selfish to want to keep her with us a little longer for our own desires.

We often think & talk about you. Wish we could see you & talk with you sometime.

Sincerely
Edna Brown Wilson

Dear Dr. Robinson:

I wish to thank you for the timely and convincing statements you have made in the Sunday School lesson of November 4th which appears on page two of the Presbyterian, October 25th. Your showing up the reasons for a lack of law enforcement and your convincing argument regarding the violation of the present laws and the sources of encouragement to violate the Volstead Act are a valuable contribution, and I hope that of the vast number who read your excellent discussion and exposition there will be not a few who will write and tell you so. Those of us who have come into rather personal contact with Governor Smith, Jimmie Walker, Bernard Downing, and other Tammanyites and who know of their political influence over ten or more years in New York can and have been saying some things right out loud. I handed out a straight talk in Dr. Clausen's great Baptist Church in Syracuse a week ago last Wednesday night. I would welcome any challenge of what I had to say from Governor Smith and I am sure that at least, in my own judgment, he would not get off as easy as he did with Rev. Mr. Von Nostrand of Albany. I heard Von Nostrand's statement at Winona Lake, which was about the same as he gave it to a newspaper man, but he missed a great opportunity when he left Governor Smith get by with the single question the Governor asked him. We need men to-day who can stand up and be counted; the kind that Holland speaks of in his poem, of men

"Who live above the mist and fog,
In public duty and in private thinking"

Well, I just wanted you to know my thought upon this matter, and as you are an upstate man, I will give you these two slogans I picked up at Poughkeepsie last Wednesday:

It takes two Smiths to make a cough drop
And one Hoover to make a clean sweep.

It takes one Hoover to make a Smith drop.

and believe me Hoover will certainly make a clean sweep on November 6th and Al will have a big drop.

Cordially yours,

B:D

Dear Dr. Robinson:

Dr. Maitland Alexander, President of the Board of Directors of Princeton Theological Seminary, has appointed you on the Committee on Nominations (to Membership in the Board and Officers). The Committee is as follows:

Ministers,

Robinson
McEwan
Radcliffe

Elders,

Hodge
Manson

Sylvester W. Beach

Faithfully yours,

Secretary.

Dear Coach:

I warmed my heart, that love-letter of yours. Well, if you got as much out of our fellowship at Tulsa as I did, I'll say, you have "some" capacity for blessedness and one jolly fit for the Kingdom of heaven. But don't think of going yet just because you have proved yourself to be fit for the flight. There is too much to be done. You have only begun your good work, getting in a position where you can cleanse the stables of that rotten group that showed their filthy minds at Tulsa.

In my train going to the coast was Stevenson of San Jose. He opened up to me about Mark, being himself sure that the rumors were all true. He got a surprise, and with it an illustration and proof of the "terrible week". If he ever recovers his faith in those rumors, he is himself rotten to the core.

Among other things, I told him that I was an out an out "wet" and was determined to take a drink whenever I desired it; that Mait knew that, and if he ever imbibed himself, knowing and trusting me as he did, he would most certainly have offered me a drink, especially so considering the occasions, at golf and on fishing and hunting trips. It was a damnable lie, and I didn't merely believe that it was, but that I knew that it was.

Cheer up, Robbie, about that heart of yours! It took me eight months of resting, four months of absolute rest to get my heart back to anything like a normal heart. Take it slowly, that's the medicine.

What a prince of a chap Armstrong is! My best to dear Mrs Robinson.

Yours,

Bob

Rev. W. Courtland Robinson, D.D.,
Delhi, N.Y.

My dear Courtland:-

We missed you at the meeting last Monday. I do hope you are again in full health.

We adopted the Petition which Maitland sent to all of us some weeks ago. The vote was 14 to 6, Stevenson, of course being one of the six. Yourself, Burrell, McEwan and Frank Stevenson would have made the vote 18 instead of fourteen. The morale of our men was fine, and we are standing together and for the Old Princeton without a break in the ranks. As much cannot be said for the Trustees, for at their meeting on Tuesday the vote to approve Thompson's Report was seven to five. Hitherto Magie has sometimes stood alone, and at most the minority has had but two votes. Fox, Nicol, Magie, Laird and Knox voted against the approval. I hear, unofficially, that another declaration of orthodoxy was made and Jennings led the Board in the recital of the Apostles' Creed. They approved unanimously all the requests (or rather, decisions) of the Board of Directors.

Really, a cloud even bigger than a man's hand, appears on the horizon, and, God helping us, we take courage.

J. Willison Smith was elected to take the place of Mr. Hinman, and H.S. Prentiss Nichols was elected second Vice-President in place of E.H. Perkins whose resignation from the Board was accepted with regret.

Affectionately yours,

Sylvester W. Beach (over)

I am so thankful you will be at the assembly. I have much to tell you, which cannot very well be written.
